

SUNDAY SERVICE PRECEDES WAR LOAN

Nazi Victim TELLS WHY TO SUPPORT Victory Loan

A German Jewish refugee, now resident in the Newmarket district, tells The Era and Express why people will want to buy the third Victory loan bonds.

This refugee left Germany in 1939 after persecution which resulted in his wife's death and the loss of his business. He was on the famed "suicide" refugee ship which sailed up and down the North American coast and was not allowed to land. Some of its passengers despaired and threw themselves overboard. It returned to Europe and this particular refugee was allowed to land in Britain.

This refugee, who knows what Hitlerite Europe is like, writes the following letter to The Era and Express:

"Dear Editor: The peace I feel in this country, which has given me a fine shelter and kind hospitality as a refugee from Nazi oppression, makes me want to say to all Canadians and all foreigners, loyal to the common cause, that the peaceful Thanksgiving day inside this country and the co-operation at the Women's Institute Fair show me the blessings of this country.

"The spirit of the Canadian people to do their bit to help secure victory for a peaceful future for the whole world impresses me so strongly that I cannot think that anyone will fail to sign for Victory bonds.

"I would like to ask a few important questions. Would you like to lose your: 1, freedom? 2, human dignity? 3, all morality? 4, faith? 5, children? 6, the power to raise your children religiously? 7, peace again? 8, beautiful country? 9, independence? 10, Christianity?

"The answer to these questions is to buy Victory bonds.
"A Thankful Refugee."

FIRM PURPOSE, VICTORY LOAN SPEAKER ASKS

TELLS OF DEMOCRACY'S
WEAKNESSES IN MESSAGE TO SALESMEN

MEET AT PICKERING

Deeply stirred by the presentation of democracy's cause, North York's third Victory loan canvassers went out from an organization dinner meeting at Pickering college on Friday evening determined to surpass their objectives.

Victory Loan Chairman Aubrey Davis of Newmarket presided. He confidently anticipated the support of all citizens, but, he said, the task would be more difficult and it would be necessary "to reach out for new corners from which to gather in support."

Mr. Davis told how, while marching through Belgium with the army of occupation in December, 1918, he had been introduced to two English women who had been in Belgium during the German occupation. They told him, he said, of "unspeakable atrocities" the Germans had committed.

Mr. Davis then called on Rev. Henry Cotton, "a captain during the last war, now the padre of Trinity United church."

"There is a great task before us," said Mr. Cotton. "The war is not yet won. The fighting, so far as the British are concerned, has hardly begun. First, we must realize that the Germans and Japanese are tough. My judgment is that we are far too soft. If I had my way, as soon as Berlin announced they were putting shackles on Canadian prisoners from Dieppe, I would have put shackles on German prisoners without waiting for Saturday noon."

"Ambassador Grew, who has just returned from Tokyo, tells us that the Japanese are fanatically behind the emperor, and that means behind the Japanese military leaders," said Mr. Cotton. "The Americans' experience in the Solomons—they are finding it tough to maintain a foothold—and our Canadian boys' experience at Dieppe show us what a tough proposition we have in front of us."

"I remember when the Germans lined up more than 600 of us British and Canadian prisoners, brought in machine-guns and threatened to kill us all. When the German officer used the words 'shoot to kill,' we gave three British cheers. We used to show the Germans and the Japanese that we are just as tough, and even more tough, than they are."

"For nearly two years during this war I have been looking into the faces of air crew. More than 4,000 R.C.A.F. men so far have been killed, wounded or are missing. They gave their all. What are you doing?"

Mr. Cotton then introduced Frank Dowsett, Toronto business man.

When the workers go out on the third Victory loan they can do two jobs at once, build morale and raise funds, he said. "Hitler in his chapter in Mein Kampf on propaganda has shown himself to be a genius—an evil genius" (Page 2, Col. 5)

Canon Cody Will Be Victory Loan Speaker On Sunday Evening

Citizens Gather In Town Hall For Religious Service Sunday, At Flagstaff Ceremony Monday

The third Victory loan campaign opens in Newmarket with a flag-raising ceremony at the town flagstaff, Water St., on Monday at 12.10 p.m. A detachment from the Newmarket military camp will raise the flag. The Citizens' band will attend and a school children's choir will take part.

Preceding the loan opening will be a non-denominational service in the town hall on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be President H. A. Cody of the University of Toronto. The chairman will be Rev. Joseph A. Koffend, president of the Newmarket Ministerial Association, which is arranging the service in co-operation with the Newmarket town council.

The Citizens' band will take part and Newmarket war veterans will act as ushers. Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, North York Chairman Aubrey Davis, and representative town and district citizens will be off the platform. A men's chorus from the Newmarket military camp will sing "Land of Hope and Glory."

A week from Saturday an armored column will visit Newmarket, accompanied by nine Harvard bombers dropping Victory loan leaflets. With the column will be a 45-man R.C.A.F. precision squad, who will give a drill demonstration. The column will be proceeding from Oshawa to Camp Borden via the No. 7 highway and Yonge St. and is expected in Newmarket at 5 p.m.

A commando dagger, which is to be sent to the Canadian forces overseas when the North York objective is achieved, will be on display throughout the loan campaign in the window of the Newmarket municipal office. The commando dagger will be the emblem for this loan just as the torch was the emblem of the last loan.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN IN UNEXPLAINED BLAZE

A spectacular fire levelled a barn at the fair grounds east of the grandstand last Thursday night. The barn belonged to the town and was insured for $2,000.

When the fire alarm sounded the barn was already enveloped in flames and when the brigade got there a few minutes later the roof had partly fallen in, Chief W. W. Osborne said.

The firemen were also handicapped by low water pressure due to a four-inch water main on Gorham St. instead of the usual six-inch mains. There was a slight wind but from the south and so Gorham St. houses were not greatly endangered.

The fire brigade, under Chief Osborne, turned out full strength. Cause of the fire is undetermined, Chief Osborne said. The east end of the building was used by the military camp pipe band, and had been used in the afternoon but not in the evening.

PICKERING DEFEATS U.T.S. RUGBYISTS 9-1

Pickering college defeated U.T.S. by a score of 9-1 in their first rugby game this season, at Pickering college yesterday afternoon.

The first score was made by Pickering on a forward pass to Moore, followed by another to Schopflocher, who carried it over for a touchdown. It was converted by Mossop.

In the remainder of the second quarter, U.T.S. got a single point. In the last half Mossop kicked again for three single points. Large gains were made by Pickering on interrupted passes.

Outstanding players for Pickering were Moore, Budgen, Garret and Mossop. Outstanding U.T.S. players were Brope, Biggs, Cook and Bark.

IS A PRISONER

Sgt. Fred Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Evans, Newmarket, has been reported a prisoner of war in Germany. He was one of the first Newmarket boys to go overseas. Although missing since Dieppe, his parents did not obtain any definite information about him until something over two weeks ago, when they learned that he was missing. They received word this past weekend, sent by the International Red Cross, that he was a prisoner in Germany. The above picture is quite recent.

PUT VALUE ON HUMAN SOULS AND FAITH IN GOD, IS ADVICE

"Hitler overran Europe to obtain sufficient strength to achieve his real object, the conquest of the North American continent," Thomas S. Elmore, K.C., Toronto, told the Lions club on Tuesday evening. Among the guests was Harold Trapp, war finance organizer in North York.

Reeve F. A. Lundy, in introducing the speaker, said that he was confident that Newmarket citizens would do everything possible to make the war loan a success. "Those who are in a position to know tell us that we can win this war if, and only if, all of the United Nations do all they can," said Mr. Elmore.

"This year Canada must raise $4,000 million, twice the amount that Canada raised during the last war including demobilization," he said. "That money must be raised by taxation and loans. To the extent that the money is borrowed the time of distribution of the burden is postponed."

"We mustn't blame the government for wanting this money. We told them we wanted total war and we have to stand behind the boys."

"People have to lend their money back to the government, or they couldn't be employed, and if they weren't employed we couldn't prosecute the war."

"Though this war is costly, victory is priceless.
"We have to stop putting value on things. We have to put value on human souls. We must put less faith in the dollar, and more in Almighty God."

TOWN MAKES BOND SALE AT LOW RATE

Newmarket's credit reached a new high last week with the sale of $9,000 in three percent serial debentures at par. The purchaser was the Bank of Toronto.

Treasurer N. L. Mathews, who negotiated the sale, said that the last Newmarket debentures sold yielded 3.23 percent, and that this was the best sale within memory. Bonds have sold in the last 20 years for as high as six and a half percent.

Remembers Good Work Salvation Army Has Done

A gift to the Salvation Army home front canvass from a former Newmarket resident now living in Rochester, N.Y., was accompanied by a letter: "Enclosed is my life. Hope it may help a bit in your drive for funds, and may the Lord bless you in your good work everywhere!"

"I well remember when the Army first came to Newmarket and, as a very small girl, I was allowed to attend the meetings in company with some older schoolmates. Their singing and band music gave me a more cheerful outlook on life. I was depressed after the death of my parents."

"I saw the good done by the Army and the changed lives of many in the town as a result of the Army's helpful influence. In fact, their creed has been mine to an extent, as I've done much social service work in the U.S. in connection with the Salvation Army and other religious bodies."

INSPIRATION FROM THE SEA

A speaker at the North York Victory loan organization meeting recalled the story of the Jervis Bay. The story of the Jervis Bay well may rank with the story of the little Revenge in the annals of the British navy. Sir Richard Grenville and Captain Fagan were two of a kind. While these stories of heroism at sea, of small ships deliberately taking on overwhelming odds, make such an impression on our minds, the same sort of thing happens continually in land fighting—the individual flinging caution to the winds to face almost certain death. Now and then fate intervenes and miraculously the soldier lives to do it again. Perhaps there is a medal for him but more often there is not even mention in dispatches. There is so much heroism on the field of battle that rewards can be distributed only in a representative way, in an unromantic mathematical so-many-to-a-unit manner.

The spirit of these heroes of the field of battle, the spirit of the Jervis Bay, will make a success of the Victory loan. Every citizen should try to think of himself or herself as a soldier or sailor or airman, doing all that he or she can for the cause, doing more than is asked or expected, working harder and lending more than is convenient or easy. It is a time for taking on great odds.

THEY MAY BE RIGHT

A number of Ontario's leading citizens, including Premier M. F. Hepburn and Hon. Leopold Macaulay, former member of the Henry government, are joining the Communists in asking that the ban on the Communist party be lifted. The Communist party was outlawed, as we understand the matter, not because it advocated the sharing of wealth, but because it preached the overthrow of the present form of government. Freedom of speech must include the right to advocate a different economic system, and even a different form of government, but it is questionable whether citizens should be free to advocate violence and dictatorship. The fact that Russia is now an ally of Canada's and that Russia has undertaken not to interfere in the internal affairs of other countries does not alter the position. That is no reason to give Canadian Communists freedom to advocate the violent overthrow of the Canadian government.

Perhaps a fair solution would be to remove the provisions against the Communist party and then prosecute individuals who advocated, by word or writing, the violent overthrow of Canada's present form of government. That would leave freedom to advocate economic communism, and to belong to that highly patriotic and extremely anti-fascist organization, the Communist Party of Canada.

DON QUIXOTE

Premier M. F. Hepburn is never so happy as when he is pounding the daylight out of something. When he first came into office he jumped on the chartered banks and the power "barons." A few years later, when there was another election to win, he deserted the "left" and assailed the C. I. O. and the Communists. Now he is going to bring in collective bargaining legislation, legalize the Communists and open a second front. Bless his heart!

AS YOU WOULD THAT OTHERS DO TO OURS

An R.C.A.F. casualty list issued this week includes the names of two English boys killed in Canada. This calls attention to the presence in Canada of many English lads. Could an organized effort be made to see that they are looked after with "extras" at Christmas time and throughout the year? It doesn't seem sensible that food parcels should be sent to them from Britain. Could we in Newmarket find out something about old country boys in Canada with the R.C.A.F. and R.A.F. and do something toward their comfort and happiness?

WHAT OTHERS THINK

AN EASTERN VIEWPOINT

(Sackville, N.B., Tribune)

Canada has undoubtedly gone all-out in her war effort. True, money has been wasted; true, mistakes have been made, but it can't be gainsaid that a genuine, honest-to-goodness attempt to play the war game has been made by the King government. Some rabid Conservatives, who can't conceive of a Liberal or a Liberal government doing anything right, raise up their voices in noisy criticism, but fair-minded people see little cause for complaint. In fact, the expenditure has been so vast that one wonders how a country with a population of a little over twelve million people can stand the financial strain and still keep solvent. Those who yell the hardest about the inadequacy of Canada's war effort have the least to contribute towards the prosecution of the war. A few centuries ago the vanquished paid the war bills, but the chances of getting anything out of the Axis powers is very remote indeed. Before you get too vocal, read what Canada has done so far in men, in money, in material. You'll be amazed at the tremendous effort that has been made and is still being made. Let's be fair for once and face facts, instead of prejudicial!

Of People And Things

DIGGING

By Isabel Inglis Colville

"Where are you going," asked mother, as I armed with a hoe and two baskets, I departed gardenward.

"To dig potatoes," I informed her loftily.

"If you WILL dig potatoes, why not use a spade," she wanted to know.

Now this was adding insult to injury, for I can't use a spade—when I put my foot on it, it either slides away from me and I fall flat on my face on top of it, or if I get it into the ground a little piece my foot slips off and the handle comes back and hits me in the face—hence the hoe.

"Well," said mother, "take Woolly with you, for the minute you leave the house he shinks like a banshee and tries to tear the door down."

"Alright," said I resignedly, and, putting Woolly in one of the baskets, we went forth into the cool autumn air.

"Don't forget that you intend to make celery relish," mother called after us. So, telling her we'd keep track of the time, we went on and soon came to our field of action.

"Isn't this lovely?" I asked Woolly as I dumped him out of his basket, and Woolly, with a wave of the plume which he calls his tail, proceeded to turn himself into a jungle beast and stalk me as I went down the rows.

The air was full of the sights and sounds and aromas of autumn. I could see the deep red of the Wealthy apples against the still deep green of its tree, the corn stood tall and yellow waiting for its harvesting, a few late asters and petunias gloved in the brilliant sunshine, and, in the big elm near me, a huge flock of birds had met to discuss their travel schedule.

But enchanting as all this was, we came out primarily to dig potatoes, so, carefully so as not to wound them, I hoed out my hills, while Woolly carefully examined each hole and pecked out tiny potatoes which he played with as a hockey player does a puck. There is something about seeing the nice yellow potatoes roll out from their brown nests that fascinates me—is it because I'm fond of potatoes or is it because it's fun to see the stores being brought in for winter. I fight a battle with the cement-hard earth round the carrots, and it's nice to get them in, but there's something about potatoes!

Anyway, I'm still digging them and Woolly has deserted me. Just as I straighten up to take the kinks out of my back, I hear small throaty growls and there is Woolly, carrying a large field mouse, which he deposits with great ceremony at my feet.

So, feeling we have both accomplished something, we repair to the house, I with my two baskets of potatoes, he with his trophy of the chase.

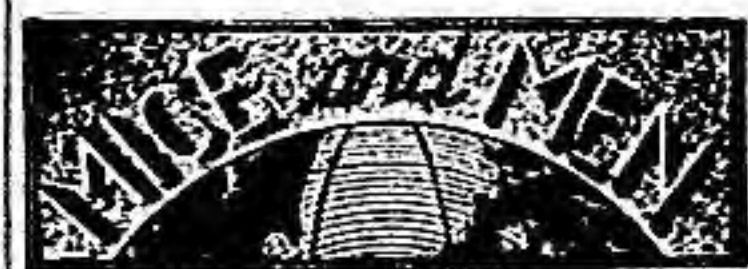

"That celery sauce," begins mother as I leave in sight.

"Exactly," say I and seek the sink to scrub myself into working order.

This celery sauce, we think, is rather special—we take 30 tomatoes—you could use canned, if too late for the garden ones—two large heads of celery, cut fine, six onions, chopped fine, two level tablespoons of salt, a half teaspoon cayenne pepper, one and a half cups sugar, a quarter of a cup of vinegar. Put on stove and let come to a boil and boil one hour and a half.

"I'm glad that's done," said mother, as I put the finished product into its hot sterilized jars. "For when you and Woolly go potatoing, you forget everything else."

But looking round the garden, there's so much to do—there were iris to move, but they'll have to be left, and there's a pool to finish and old flowers to dispose of, but when the man of the house is building against time, I can only go in short spurts of energy from one short-needed work to another, and think, "Oh well, there's another year."

The Nazis announced last week that they had achieved their objectives at Stalingrad but at the same time they kept up their attack. Their offensive had died down on Tuesday and the Russians were trying to retake German-held ground.

Eight men in an R.C.M.P. patrol vessel have completed a water voyage across the top of North America. It took them two and a quarter years. It was the first west-to-east crossing. Amundsen completed in 1906 a three-year voyage from east-to-west.

Britain and Canada put in handcuffs on Saturday 1,376 officers and men, German and Italian prisoners, in retaliation for the handcuffing of a similar number of British and Canadian prisoners taken at Dieppe. The Germans said that they were retaliating for the British in handcuffing prisoners taken on the island of Sark recently. Britain admitted that two or three Germans' hands had been tied for a short time during the heat of action, but they said that that was a different thing from handcuffing men in prison camps.

Britain and the U.S. have given up their rights of "extraterritoriality" in China. Formerly Britain, the U.S. and other western powers claimed the right to have their own troops, police and courts in China.

The U.S. announced Tuesday that two months ago in invading the Solomons the U.S. lost three heavy cruisers, with many men, making total U.S. losses in the Solomons nine ships. Washington announced on Wednesday that U.S. forces had sunk a Japanese cruiser, four destroyers and a transport in a new battle in the Solomons area.

The Japanese have landed reinforcements on the Solomon Islands with the apparent intention of driving out the Americans.

Stalin gave a newspaper interview last week stating that the Allies had not given Russia as much help as Russia had given them, and asking that they fulfill their obligations. He did not say what the obligations were or whether they were not being fulfilled. Prime Minister Churchill declined to reply.

ATTENDANCE IS GOOD

genius, it is true—in the ability to use mass psychology in a manner the world has never seen before," said Mr. Dowsett. "A high-ranking Nazi has said that if Hitler wins it will be because he has been able to exploit the weaknesses of democracy. I want to speak of the fundamental weaknesses of democracy which Hitler has exploited in all the countries he has occupied and which he is strongly exploiting on this continent."

"They are (1) mental confusion, (2) contradiction of feeling, (3) indecision and (4) panic. "There was and is a great deal of mental confusion in the minds of our Canadian people. There is only one way to meet this and that is by straight thinking. If you workers who go out on this third Victory loan will only help the people whom you meet to think straight regarding the great issues for which we are fighting you will have done something more than merely sell Victory bonds."

"Our feelings are governed too much by the headlines in our newspapers. If the news is good today then we're up. If the headlines are bad, then we're down. This rising and falling of our temperature is a bad thing. There is only one way to meet this and that is by steadiness of purpose, keeping our eyes on the goal, with a strong determination to win, no matter what the day to day news may be."

"The Germans and the Japanese have been able to exploit our indecision. There is only one answer to this and that is to have an inflexible will to resist. The exploit of H.M.S. Jervis Bay aptly illustrates this point."

Mr. Dowsett repeated a poem which he got from a sailor:

"Thirty-eight ships with food for you,
Thirty-eight ships that must get through,
Atlantic calm and dusk of day,
And a shell screamed over the Jervis Bay."

"Thirty-eight ships full speed ahead,
Off with their needed cargoes sped,
But over there where the war-ship lay,
Guns ablaze went the Jervis Bay."

"This was the end the captain knew,
Fagan knew it and all his crew,
Buying minutes with lives to pay,
Lord, they were men on the Jervis Bay."

"Where there is mental confusion and contradiction of feeling and indecision, then there is always panic," continued Mr. Dowsett. "If Russia goes down, and the Germans turn this way, there will be panic here, too, unless with straight thinking and steadiness of purpose we have the inflexible will to resist."

Thanking the speaker, Mayor

MOVIES

Each new George Formby comedy is a film event, for in the history of the cinema few great stars have equalled George's record for beating his own records with each successive comedy. "Turned Out Nice Again" plays Monday and Tuesday at the Strand theatre.

The story has George as a young assistant in an underwear manufacturing company whose promotion to an executive job enables him to realize his ambition and marry the girl of his dreams. But the girl of his dreams finds that the bargain carries with it the unwelcome presence of a nightmare—a mother-in-law — George's "moocher," who has been so often invoked but never before seen in Formby comedies.

George meets with disaster; a speculation in a new yarn divests him of his savings; a scene with his employers divests him of his job; his mother's proprietary nagging divests him of his wife. Need it be said? It all turns out nice again, with George triumphant as ever, and savings, job and wife duly restored.

"Steel Against The Sky," an exciting drama about the men who risk their lives building great suspension bridges, will open at the Strand theatre next Friday. The picture stars Alexis Smith, the blonde bomb-shell of "Dive Bomber," Lloyd Nolan and Craig Stevens, with Gene Lockhart and Edward Ellis in the supporting roles.

One of the finest comedy casts ever assembled, in what Hollywood regards as one of the most gaily tender comedies of the season, may be seen in Columbia's "They All Kissed the Bride," which will co-star Joan Crawford and Melvyn Douglas. Miss Crawford, forsaking her recent appearances in drama to revert to the type of comedy characterization which made her world-famous, also returns to dancing for the first time in years. Roland Young, Billie Burke and Allen Jenkins head the top-flight supporting cast.

According to advance report, "They All Kissed the Bride" is a happy picture, a gay romance, the tender story of a man and woman in seventh heaven, because it's their first real love affair. Directed with all Hall's masterly zestfulness, the new film is said to be a joyous comedy warmed by the touch of "heart" that makes love stories memorable.

Miss Crawford appears as a million-dollar heiress, a career woman who goes on a romantic bender after one kiss from a man who knows how! She cuts rugs, she woos a cabbie in the back of his own cab, she goes truckin' with a truck-driver, and she winds up back in the arms of her bride-kissing boy friend. Douglas, of course, is the gentleman responsible for it all, a penniless lug who can and makes her like it!

Four players from the recent shocker, "The Wolf Man," are seen in Universal's new horror drama, "The Ghost of Frankenstein."

Lon Chaney, title player in "The Wolf Man," portrays the dread Frankenstein monster in the new offering. Ralph Bellamy, Bela Lugosi and Evelyn Ankers, also seen in the previous film, have leading roles in the "Frankenstein" drama.

SUNNIEST AND FUNNIEST FILM COMES

The Canada Year Book is invaluable to anyone who is interested in Canada's political, economic or social problems. Commercially, the book would cost about $4 or $5, not counting the cost of gathering the information, but actually it sells for $1.50 a copy. A paper-bound copy may be obtained by clergy-men, teachers or students for 50 cents.

It is an extremely interesting volume but it is not appreciated because it is sold so cheaply. Copies may be obtained from the King's Printer, Ottawa.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS HELP FILL NAVY DITTY BAGS

A general meeting of the Newmarket branch of the Navy League will be held on Friday at 8 p.m. at the council chambers. A good turn-out is requested, as plans for Navy League week are to be discussed.

The ditty bag committee has received a splendid donation of "housewives" for the ditty bags from the public schools. Each room filled a "housewife" from the donations of the pupils.

One hundred and fifty ditty bags have been filled and shipped, so that they will be aboard ship in time for Christmas. A list of the donors will appear in a later issue.

WHITCHURCH AURORA DOCTOR'S FLOCK ATTACKED

Sheep claims have been light in Whitchurch township thus far this year, and three claims ordered paid Saturday at the regular October council meeting totalled only $84 for four separate raids made by dogs.

Chas. Dennie was compensated to the extent of $10 for one animal killed, and Dr. C. J. Devins, whose flock was attacked on three separate occasions, received $74, for three killed in one attack $40, two at another slaughter $25, and one killed $9. The doctor's sheep pasture at lot 16, concession 5, has been a favorite hunting ground for sheep-killing dogs before. The claims were ordered paid on motion of Councillors Baker and Logan.

The department of national revenue, Ottawa, advised the treasurer that henceforth he must deduct seven percent from cheques issued in payment for debenture interest on schools, or other liabilities of this nature.

North York Plowmen's Association was granted $25 in aid of the plowing match to be held at Ringwood in the township on Oct. 28.

Percy Pattenden was advised that he might expect to be called on to operate a township snow-plow on his truck on the same terms as last year. Mr. Pattenden said he would be ready to take on the work.

A by-law was introduced by Deputy-Reeve George Leary calling for the disbursement of $5,015 of clergy reserve monies in the hands of the township. It will be paid to the various sections on the basis of attendance and the trustees are to expend the monies according to the needs of the different schools.

The treasurer stated that road expenditures to date totalled $10,079.64, in answer to a question by Councillor Lorne Evans. The meeting, opened at one o'clock, completed business by five, and was presided over by Warden Earl Toole.

LIFE INSURANCE IS THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

PROTECTION

...for the people
...by the people

IN peace time, peace of mind goes deep. Yet you can often see it in a face. You can usually tell when a man or woman has a sense of security. You can see it in the springy step of a doctor in Vancouver. You can see it in the calm eyes of a farmer on the Prairies. You can feel it in the firm grip of a miner in Sudbury. You can hear it in the unruffled voice of a school teacher in Quebec. You can sense it in the quiet heartiness of a store clerk in Halifax.

Men and women who enjoy the financial security of life insurance are typical Canadians . . . if you can call four million people typical. Some are young, some are middle-aged, some are old. Most of them are wage-earners and people of moderate means. Life insurance came into existence because these people needed protection, and its assets in Canada . . . now over two billion dollars . . . are owned by the people it serves. Each one of you protects the other, and as you protect each other, so you protect yourselves and the nation.

Right now, peace of mind and protection depend on victory. That is why you should work, save and lend to the limit of your ability. Put every dollar you can into War Savings in the advice of your life insurance companies who have invested millions of your premium savings in war loans to buy the tools of victory.

Puzzlers Who Have Never Won, Here's A Puzzle That Can Be Done By Those Who Think, Not Everyone

The puzzle editor got the answers down to 15 last week of which only one was 100 percent correct and six others were 90 percent correct.

The question that gave the greatest difficulty was: "What fur-bearing animal is feeling somewhat relieved as a result of the gasoline shortage?" Most contestants said "squirrel" and some said "fox." With all deference, the puzzle editor suggests that most of those black pellets lying on the highways as victims of automobiles belong to skunks. The answer the puzzle editor had in mind came from only one contestant, Mrs. A. D. Evans, who sent in "chamois" with a perfect set of answers.

The correct answers were: battery, grounds, laundry, chamomile, healthy, general, partly, strayed, order. (Cider was difficult too. "Bee Cider" was substituted for "beside her" and called "nectar" - not "next her" - by the apirist's little daughter.)

The winner then are Mrs. A. D. Evans, and the four following, whose coupons were drawn from the six nine-rights by H. M. Gladman of the Canadian National Express; Elizabeth Morning, Holland Landing, Mrs. Ted Baile, 69 Eagle St., Newmarket, Don Cribar, 16 Joseph St., Newmarket, and Mrs. Joe

Marchers Stop At Night For Dance At Aurora

Aurora armory Tuesday night housed 160 men from No. 23 basic training centre, Newmarket, who were out on two-day manoeuvres. Settling out from Newmarket, the company under the command of Major C. D. McCrory routed-marched ten miles before coming to Aurora late in the afternoon. At the armory depot the camp's pipe band, under Cpl. Burns, were on hand to play the men to the armory.

In the park, field kitchens had been set up by an advance party under Sgt. Wesley Niles and the men fell to the stew with a will. Lectures on night fieldcraft followed the evening meal and then shortly after 8 o'clock the camp's smart six-piece orchestra provided music for a dance which saw young ladies present from Aurora, Newmarket and the district.

L-Cpl. Turner and his boys received well-earned applause from the dancers for their excellent music. Dancing lasted until 11:30 when the boys turned into their blankets on the armory floor. Pte. Don Hudson, well-known master of ceremonies, and some of the lads staged an impromptu floor show during the dance.

Reveille was piped the next morning and after a hearty breakfast the party moved off back to the camp, this time proceeding through Whitechurch township.

Aurorians were disappointed over the weekend when LAC Harold Petrie, serving overseas with the R.C.A.F., was not heard as expected on the Sunday broadcast originating from the Beaver club in London. It is hoped he will be on the air in the near future.

The W.A. of the 1st Hussars regiment held a successful euchre and dance in Mechanics' hall last Friday evening which was well attended. Billy Hole and his orchestra provided the music.

Cpl. Jack Saecy, R.C.O.C., Camp Borden, spent the weekend at his home.

Pte. Frank Cook, R.C.O.C., Orlino, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Walker.

LAC John McGhee, Rockcliffe, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGhee.

Whitchurch Man Is Dark Horse For Party Chieftain

Mentioned among possible candidates for the leadership of the Dominion Conservative party is H. R. ("Reg") MacMillan of Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. MacMillan, who is one of Canada's big industrial leaders, has been acting on the munitions and supply board without salary. He was born in Whitchurch township, attended Newmarket high school and the University of Toronto and married an Aurora girl, Edna Mulloy, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mulloy.

Victory Chorus Will Be 100 Voices Strong

With 35 people attending the opening meeting, the Aurora Victory chorus, which scored such a hit last year in three appearances for war charities, got off to a fine start on Tuesday evening. By a unanimous vote the group decided to carry on and the opening practices will be held next week with the chorus scheduled to make its first concert appearance just before Christmas.

Illyd Harris will again be the leader. "We expect to have about 100 voices and we will be pleased to receive applications for membership right away," Mr. Harris said.

Rod. V. Smith continues as president of the chorus, but two changes were made in the executive. Miss Letha Boynton replacing John Walton as secretary and Charles Davies replacing Dr. A. V. Boland as treasurer. Mr. Walton is a member of the armed forces now, while Dr. Boland found business ties prevented him from carrying on.

No decision was arrived at regarding what war charities would benefit by the group's concert appearances but this will be decided upon in the near future by the executive.

"We are off to a fine start," President R. V. Smith said.

Bring N.C.O. Courses To Aurora This Season

Because of transportation difficulties, instead of N.C.O.'s of C company of the Queen's York Rangers taking their qualifying courses in Toronto, lecturers will come to Aurora from Toronto on Tuesday evenings to teach the men here at Aurora armory.

In other years officers and N.C.O.s taking courses have journeyed to Toronto two nights a week and on Sunday mornings. Now the North York boys will go to Toronto only on Sunday mornings.

U.T.S. WINS 35-1

St. Andrew's College cadets suffered their second loss of the season on Saturday when they were beaten 35-1 by U.T.S. It was the fifth straight win for the bigger and more experienced city boys.

STUDENTS PARADE

St. Andrew's College cadet corps will attend divine service at Aurora United church on Sunday morning. The corps and their pipe band will parade to and from the church.

QUEEN'S YORKS SECURE EIGHT NEW RECRUITS

Eight new recruits were secured by C company of the 2nd battalion, Queen's York Rangers, D. E. Wade, village clerk, Bradford, Fred Harris, science master at Aurora high school and Douglas Tunney, Aurora, Claude Robinson, Newmarket, Clifford Linstead, Sharon, Stewart Wellman, Delbert Hill and William Mayberry, Richmond Hill, are the new members.

Ordinary Seaman Harold Cottrell, 18, is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cottrell of Agincourt. He was slightly wounded during the battle in which the Asiniboine sank a German submarine. O.S. Cottrell has been with the navy since he was 17 and has two brothers in the R.C.A.F., Ronald on leave at home and John at St. Thomas.

MISSING AFTER DIEPPE

Word was received by George E. Richardson, Vandorf, in a message from Pte. Stanley Sloman, who is overseas, that Pte. Robert Gittings has been missing since the Dieppe raid. Both Pte. Sloman and Pte. Gittings lived and worked in the Vandorf community before going

DOWN THE CENTRE

Summit Golf club may be playing its last season for the duration, as military authorities have their peep-sights trained on it as a possible convalescent home for Canada's fighting men. The famous Ancaster course near Hamilton is said to be another possibility. Scarborough Golf club was also considered but it is fairly close to Toronto and with a train running close by was said to be unsatisfactory. From a health standpoint Summit would be an ideal spot. Certainly, the idea of taking over golf courses is much more sensible than that of taking over private schools which has been broached and to some degree took place in the Great War. With transportation to Summit becoming a bigger problem for members as the war months go by it is quite likely club officials will concur in the idea. Ancaster and Summit are two of the finest courses in the country but can be spared, we are sure.

Boy Collings, one of the most popular players ever to wear an Aurora hockey sweater and captain of that gallant band of lads who captured the junior C title in 1938-9, is back at Barrie at his old post with the C.N.R. "Mutt" enlisted in 1940 and was getting along nicely when he suffered a back injury at the east coast. Convalescence and medical treatment have failed to bring the response expected. So Roy has been honorably discharged and is back at his old post. He has the consolation of having done his bit of his own will but we know he would rather be back in service again. Along with countless sports fans who have a warm spot in their hearts for the Bradford boy, we hope his injury will eventually be cleared up.

Lloyd Houghton, another Bradford boy, who played briefly with Aurora last year, has been transferred from Dafoe, Man., to Vancouver, B.C. These air force lads sure get around and plenty far from home too.

Tony? Do you recall not so long ago when you went to the movies on a Saturday how you roared and applauded the doings and supersensations of Tony Mix? If you do you'll remember "Tony, the wonder horse," as he was called, by the movie press agents.

Rightly so too and every kid who saw the faithful Tony deal the villain a bit of nasty would gladly have given a right arm to ride him. Well, Tony, like his master, is no more. On Saturday last he was shot at the ripe old age of 40 after a long and honorable career. Mix picked up Tony for 14 simoleons and from a movie standpoint he was worth a million. Like his master's effects, Tony will not be forgotten. He goes to a movie museum to be seen by posterity, but by many of us old Saturday afternooners he will never be forgotten.

Dixie Corbett, well known Barrie sportsman and hockey club executive, gets an orobid from this corner for his latest gesture. Dixie is sending at his own expense cigarettes overseas to each and every Barrie boy. Smokes, according to Will White, who has just returned from overseas, are what the boys crave most from home. Corbett had most of the boys' business in peace time and he has not forgotten the lads now. Hope a lot of young guys and gals will emulate Corbett, even tho' you do it on a lot smaller scale.

Heard one about the colored lad who was a crown witness against another dark cloud and had given some rather damaging testimony against the defendant. The magistrate intervened to ask if he would call the defendant a thief, and the reply was, "I doan know about that, your honor, but if I was a chicken and I saw that big lazybones loafin' around, I'd sure roost mighty high."

Max Rescor, the well-known hockey referee and lawn bowler, who gives the appearance of being a regular hard-boiled benny on the ice, has surprisingly enough come up as an actor and amateur play director. The Women's Institute at Markham put on a play on fair night called, "I'm In the Army Now." Max, according to all reports, was one of the main reasons for the success of the show. Incidentally, the profits amounted to $141.40, which was turned over to the Markham public library.

Austy Baker, the former Markham hockeyist and softballer now with the R.C.A.F., recently pitched his flight to a couple of wins in the airforce softball league. Last week, so we are told, he came home sporting a shiner and he received quite a bit of kidding from the lads. However, he got it when hit by a mushball and not a door or fist. He expects to try out for the R.C.A.F. hockey team this winter and should have a fair chance to make the grade and that goes for Lawrie and Bob Bayley too, despite all the highly touted stars said to be with the birdmen. That trio, for two years now in junior and intermediate, have been as high a scoring line as there was in amateur hockey. I saw Bangay the other day in his uniform and he looks pretty nifty and right in the pink of condition.

Congratulations go to our good friend, Howard Jackman, who parols the narrow for the provincial government and does a fine job too as most motorists will tell you. Howard is issuing cigars these days all because of a brand new baby daughter. Jackman is a keen sportsman and started a bunch of Richmond Hill lads at hockey a few years back, most of whom turned out pretty useful performers. He tried hard to keep sports alive in the Hill and often dug down into his pocket to help finance things.

Marj McCannan has concluded her softball activities for the season following Monday's exhibition game at Simcoe and at the end of her first season deserves a big hand for her clever performance. Stepping into Sunnyside competition from a small town is no mean feat for any girl. It's the fastest girls' baseball in the world, or at least, as fast as any, and Miss McCannan, who finished third in the league batting race, and headed her team, played well in the play-offs, her drives prolonging the series by at least one game. Her fielding will improve another year as will her all-round play, now that the nervousness is worn off. Incidentally, we hear she has a bid to play for Sunday Morning Class next year. She is scheduled to resume basketball in a few weeks with Carleton Park United.

Tennis balls in the States are of a new type. The ball has a gas pill in the centre and a cloth cover. There is no rubber whatever or even rubber cement used. The first ball came "dead" to the players, say, but after it has been in use a few minutes it warms up and is just as good as an ordinary tennis ball. Now if someone can only invent a rubberless golf ball that will be as good. Paging Major Hoople!

Rugby schedule for St. Andrew's, in case you're interested, is as follows:

Oct. 17—S.A.C. at Pickering
Oct. 24—U.C.C. at S.A.C.
Oct. 27—U.T.S. at S.A.C.
Oct. 30—S.A.C. at Pickering
Nov. 7—S.A.C. at Trinity

It appears as tho' means of transportation has been satisfactorily arranged and the entire Little Big Four will function. No home dates for either Ridley or Trinity are announced and it all appears a bit uncertain but they will perhaps be midweek games like the U.T.S. game. Pickering has, of course, played at Aurora and St. Andrew's played U.T.S. in Toronto last Saturday, and looked better too.

The theme song of the world's champion St. Louis Cards, so they tell us, was a hill-billy ditty entitled, "Willie, My Toes Is Cold." Suppose we'll be hearing it on all the juke-boxes shortly. However snappy the song may be, the way the Cards ran the bases we don't think any of them could say their own toes were cold. The red birds simply flew. Next season chin splits and spawls and will likely be very popular in the big leagues, as other teams adopt the St. Louis tactics, and don't forget, it'll be old guys trying to act young too. Personally, if it interests you, we picked the Yankees and muttered a silent prayer for Missouri marauders.

Don Hamilton wound up the season as a member of the East End juvenile team which won on after Ronnie Rowe was suspended. Don played on the half line and should be in good shape for hockey.

Rowe, who was suspended in the juvenile series, moved up to the seniors, who are in the same jurisdiction, without his suspension being ended and has been playing sensationally, as he did earlier in the season. His team is now close to the top and definitely sure of a play-off spot.

Charlie Smith, along with jockey Bobby Watson, is riding at Dufferin track this week and next. Last spring both boys spurned Little Saratoga, but when the Ten to Ace bubble burst, it left Charlie financially unable to pick and choose his spots. He had a good streak at Thorncliffe but not so good at Woodbine. Would like to see him pick up the chips this fall in what may be his last riding assignments for the duration.

Junior Ellis, who won six firsts and took the senior title at Aurora public school field day last week, deserves mention for an outstanding show. At 14 he shows the most promise of any of the public school boys we have seen for quite a while. He is equally good at track and field events, and if he gets the proper coaching at high school will be heard from in later years.

Fred Harvie, who succeeds Norm Johnson as athletic coach at Aurora high school, has a tough task in hand to provide coaching on a par with Johnson's efforts. Besides, we doubt if he has the material on hand to make his work look as good. We have heard good reports of his work in the north and hope he will be able to carry on the Johnson saga of the Aurora school successes.

Bill of a tongue twister what? Cy Wentworth, the former Montreal Maroon star, who coached Etobicoke two years ago and incidentally sent Ross Waddell to the local club along with Ross Tunbridge, is slated to coach the navy entry in the senior O.H.A. this winter. He will not lack for players and a bit of interest will be centred on the team, with Hughie Mair, Pete Donkin, and Bill Wilson, three former Aurora juniors, on deck for regular positions.

Joe Primeau, 'tis said, will coach the R.C.A.F. team in Toronto as well as looking after the Upper Canada team. "Hobbs" McCannan will definitely be playing mercantile at Ravenna rink this winter and is also said to be turning out with the Research Colonels, who will be the only Toronto civilian entry in Senior O.H.A. this year, replacing the Marlboro club.

Jack Cowleson, who was sub-goalie on the Aurora juniors of 35-36, is a sergeant in the air force now and stationed at Moncton, N.B., where his old teammate, Bill Thornton, is also parked. "Fat" James and his lacrosse buddies were moved to the east before the western play-offs started. Hence the Victoria service entry were easy pickings for the New Westminster Salmonbellies who came east to play the Brampton-Mimico squad.

King City held a dance on Monday night for the hockey team, which means at long last the boys are going to be honored for their fine performance last year. The dance was a real howdown which attracted a big crowd. The team will carry on again this year if there is any competition. In suggesting a Newmarket-Aurora town league a few weeks ago we forgot to mention the farmer boys, who would be an ideal entry both from playing ability and gate-drawing standpoint. Bob Mooney and Crec Walker would probably jump at the chance to obtain a franchise. With the possible exception of Sayers and "Nip" Armstrong, the team is practically intact from last season.

As a last kick to the softball whirl, had a letter from our four-star correspondent, Ace Vake, now stationed in Newfoundland. In his letter he says, "No mail has reached me here yet, but I hope to see 'Down the Centre' Canada's best sports column, so far as I am concerned, and I imagine that goes for lots of others too. Had some great fanning bees with Bowen, Tunney, Reid and a Richmond Hill lad whose name I forgot. We all recalled great players of glorious York-Simcoe league days. Their choices seemed to be Charlie Proctor, Mike Shapki, Teddy Bennett, 'Nuggets' Shore, Alex. Webster, Bob Peters, Harry Brammer, 'Pec-Wee' Hilton, 'Rin' Brown, Will White, Harvey Gibney and Herbie Cain as the best, excluding Barrie players, with Wes. Niles, Jimmy Grear and George Strong also called. Personally, I liked Jack Helmke, Harold Echlin and Wes. Heaney for the best of all time in the district but I seemed to be outvoted. We enjoyed picking them and it helped fill in the time. I hope some day to again see the younger ones cavort on the diamond—but it will be younger ones than me. We have had a lot of umpires in the army but have not been ejected from a game since 'Speedy' Giles put me out in Aurora the year you called us 'the flops of 1939'.

For an all-time southern York-Simcoe team that's a pretty potent one although personally we would take Charlie VanZant or Echlin ahead of Shapki of Aurora and Proctor of Richmond Hill. The pitching staff of Bennett, Shore and Webster needs no revision, nor the infield or outfield, which reads in order from there on. We would like to have seen them all on one team when they were all at their best.

Did you know that four heavyweight boxing champions all had identical first names and middle initials? Well, it's so and the initials are J. J. Well, three of them aren't so tough, James J. Corbett, James J. Jeffries and James J. Braddock, but the fourth one probably is making you scratch your head a bit, 'nest-ce-pas? Well, it's none other than the fighting marine, "Gene" Tunney, whose correct names are James J. and the J doesn't stand for "Jim." John Sisman, now a pilot-officer in the R.C.A.F., who played hockey for both St. Andrew's College and Aurora high, will middle-astle it this month with Miss Edith Anderson of Aurora. Potentially, Sisman had everything to make himself a hockey great but for some reason or other wouldn't extend himself, although at times he would go all out and look as good as any in junior company.

Newmarket camp, following their successful soccer season, are likely to enter a team in the Toronto and district league next year, providing the players aren't lost in military shuffles by next spring. Bill VanZant, former kid burler of the Newmarket Redmen, is a sergeant in the R.C.A.F. now. As a kid Billy showed great promise but with big Alex. Webster on hand never really got a chance to show his true worth. He appeared briefly too for Aurora.

Better Farm Prices Is Plea Of Agnes Macphail

"I am becoming more and more convinced that we will see a very definite food shortage in Canada by next spring," said Agnes Macphail, speaking at Vandorf on the C.C.F. farm platform.

"Anything as important as food must be planned for and paid for," she said. "The governments of Canada have pursued the opposite policy. They have given subsidies and taken them away, made contracts and changed them, taken men from the farms and always acted too late. Too long have they made their policy one of cheap food and the farmer can go whistle for his money. A cheap food policy is a disastrous policy. You can't go on discouraging agriculture forever."

"Agriculture plays too important a part in the Canadian economy not to interfere with the prosperity of the people as a whole. There can be no real go-ahead happiness and contentment unless the farmers are getting a break. For the last 20 years they have never had adequate prices for anything longer than a season or two. Agriculture went into the war depleted. Although farmers form 40 percent of the population of Canada, in 1932 they only got six percent of the national income and for the last 11 years only received an average of ten percent. The farm life is the best there is but no one will live it if the farmer does not get enough to live on. He must be assured of a reasonable price continuing year after year."

"The C.C.F. wants the farmer to have prices for his produce sufficient to enable him to live comfortably, not high prices but a fair balanced price, so that what the farmer gets for his produce is in just relationship to what he pays for the goods and services he has to buy. What makes food dear is the great gap taken out of it in profit by the middlemen before the consumer gets hold of it. The processing plants, the packing houses, the milk distributors must be brought under control. They must either be run by the government or co-operatively in the interests of the people as a whole and not to make a profit for a few men.

"The hold of the implement companies, the food processing monopolies and the mortgage companies on the farmer must be loosened. The old political parties like to spread the idea that the C.C.F. intends to take away the farmer's farm. The C.C.F. doesn't intend and never did intend to take the farms away from the farmers, not even the half left them by the mortgage company, for 40 percent of the farms in Canada now are mortgaged. You don't have to have much money to get land but you have to have a lot to keep it."

"The C.C.F. wants to see more and more farmers owning their own land and living there in comfort and security, producing the food the people of Canada need. They want to see money made available to him at low interest rates. They want to see him represented on all government boards that deal with agriculture by representatives chosen by the Federation of Agriculture and not as now by representatives chosen by the government, for a good farmer who is a good enough Liberal to be chosen somehow becomes more of a Liberal than a farmer when he sits on the board. They want to see him have equal health services and educational opportunities with the rest of Canada. They want to encourage producer and consumer co-operatives. They want to see right now a plan made to insure that enough men are left on the land that food enough can be produced to feed our allies, our fighting forces and ourselves. And they want him to come into the party and help form its policies out of his own experience as to his needs."

VICTORY LOAN DRIVE FOR $750,000,000 OPENS MONDAY

We will push on to Victory!

WHEN FRANCE FELL, and Britain stood with her back to the wall, one strong jaw jutted out, and the grip of one clenched fist shook the Empire.

It was Churchill hurling Britain's decision across the channel. Quit? ... Never! ... Fight? ... Yes, through the hell of adversity till victory is won.

Today Canadians face challenge after challenge with the same unconquerable spirit. Today we are asked to do without so that our fighting men will have everything they need—when they smash straight into the heart of enemy defences.

Canada's ringing answer to this latest challenge will be:

"Yes, we'll fight with the last ounce of our strength, and the last dollar we can earn and save."

Canada's Victory Loan drive opens Monday. Canada's Victory Loan representative will ask for your answer soon.

Will it be "No, I do not choose to do my part?"

Or will it be "Yes! Yes! Yes!!! I will buy Victory Bonds! I will lend all my support to help make victory sure."

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.

SUTTON
Public Ownership Aim,
Says Miss Macphail

"We all have certain fears in common," said Agnes Macphail, speaking at a Sutton C.C.F. meeting.

"We fear old age, illness, unemployment," she said. "The C.C.F. wants to give us security against our fears. We have learned that we cannot insure ourselves against these things as individuals but we can do it together. All socialism means is collectively looking after ourselves. The first step in doing this is to put the control of the financial system into the hands of the people."

"The roads used to be privately owned and you had to pay a toll to get onto them and if the owner was smart, and he usually was, a toll to get off them. Now they are owned by the people, and there is nothing frightening about that, it is obviously to everybody's benefit. So the banks, trust companies, investment houses and insurance companies must be owned by the people through their government so that all of us can be secure from fear."

"The profits in insurance are one of the scandals of this age," said Miss Macphail. "Why we ever allowed managers of insurance companies to draw down a salary of $75,000 a year out of the money we saved to take care of ourselves in trouble is difficult to understand. The money returned to the companies is the blood-money of the people of this country and should be administered for them and by them, and it will never be for them if it isn't administered by them."

"Two countries have done this already. One was unmentionable until lately, Russia, and the other is New Zealand. In Russia every young person has an equal chance to be trained to do what they want to do and no old person is desitute."

Then Miss Macphail told of several cases she personally knew of right now, that she was trying to do something for, of old people trying to live on a Canadian old-age pension of $20 a month.

"In New Zealand everyone from the time they start to earn pays five percent of their wages into the social security fund and is assured of free medical and hospital care, allowances for mothers and children, pay while sick, a pension if incapacitated and knows that he can retire at the age of 60 on an adequate pension," she said.

"The war has shown us that we have enough money to do all these things and more in Canada. After the war is over there is no need to fear unemployment if the factories were owned by a people's government, and run in the interests of supplying the people with what they need and paying the workers a fair wage and not as now in the interest of making a profit for a few men. The people are beginning to realize that this is true and they are not going to go out again and vote against their own interests. They are not going to go out and vote for the candidates of big business."

Miss Macphail said that she saw no hope for the common people in either of the old political parties. "Out of my 18 years experience in the House of Commons comes the knowledge that the power of money is too strong. I have seen both the old parties victor for the attention of big business.
I have seen them become more and more the servants of big business and less and less the servants of the people. The C.C.F.
came into being because there was no party of the common people and it is now the second greatest party in Canada. It is based on the philosophy of service for the common people and its aims are to bring a happy, contented and abundant life to all the people in this domination."
